Indigenous Business and Industry Services (IBIS)

If you are Indigenous and want to talk to someone about how to start a new business or developing your current business, then IBIS is the team for you.

What does IBIS do?

- Encourages Indigenous people to take up opportunities for enterprise development
- Identifies and removes barriers to Indigenous people taking up opportunities
- Provides ongoing support for Indigenous people who take up opportunities
- Maximises opportunities for Indigenous engagement in major Territory projects
- Identifies community-based, enterprise and business interests
- Provides start-up information to potential business developers
- Discusses project details and provides information to help assess proposals
- Provides information on assistance and funding sources
- Arranges for Department assistance from experts
- Maintains contact and follows up on project developments
