

Can I use the data templates from other Australian jurisdictions?

Most mineral reporting data submission templates used by the Australia states follow the same basic standard. NT will accept data submitted in these formats. To date, templates from Western Australian and New South Wales have not proved to be a problem, when used to submit data to the NT. If difficulties are encountered in getting the data into NT Government databases, the client may be asked to resubmit.