Important information regarding the giving of notices

Notices under the Residential Tenancies Act 1999 are permitted to be given to a person personally or sent by post. When you are giving a notice to a person, address it to that person's last known place of business or residence. When you are giving a notice to a corporation, address it to the corporation's registered office in the Territory.

If 2 or more persons are the landlords or tenants under a tenancy agreement, a notice is duly given if given to any one of them.

The Interpretation Act 1999 specifies how a notice should be given and how the time an action must be completed by is calculated.

A notice sent by post must be properly addressed and posted by prepaid post, and the giving of the notice is deemed to have been effected at the time at which the notice would be delivered to the person or corporation in the ordinary course of post. It should be noted that this will only apply in the absence of any contrary evidence.

When advising of the period in which an action must be completed, the period is counted in clear days starting the day after notice is given. Where the last day of any period falls on a Saturday, Sunday or Public Holiday, the action required may be done on the next working day.
